There are many parent groups, but there is only one PTA – Parent Teacher Association. Connecting families, schools, and communities for almost 120 years, PTA is the largest children’s advocacy association in the country and the defining organization for family engagement. PTA addresses topics that are important to parents and public-school administrators. We fight for full education funding, quality teachers, programs and policies in the best interest of all children. Your donation is completely tax-deductible and will provide support for proven programs for our students.
